The Steam Yacht Dispatch Goes
To The Bottom.

ALL ON BOARD ARE CARRIED INTO ETERNITY.

Tiny Boat Was Capsized By The Big
Rollers And None Had A Chance
To Escape—The Town of Canton
Kan., Wiped Out By A Cyclone—Twenty-five Persons Hurt, Many of Them Fatally—Sailors on Lake
Michigan Die Near Shore

Lake Geneva, Wis., July 8.—Six persons were drowned in Lake Geneva at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the steam launch Dispatch was turned over by the tornado that passed over this section with a rush. The boat went to the bottom like a shot. The dead: HOGAN, DR. JOHN E., assistant superintendent Elgin insane asylum. HOGAN, MRS. CHILD OF DR. AND MRS. HOGAN. HOGAN, REV. FATHER, of Harvard, Ill. HOGAN, MISS, of Harvard, Ill., sister of Rev. Father Hogan. PRESTON, JOHN, of Lake Geneva, engineer of the Dispatch.

Those who were drowned make up the list of passengers on the ill-fated little craft. They had chartered it for the day. When the Dispatch was about half way across the lake and a mile from either shore, the storm, which had been rapidly increasing, came with the rush of a tornado. Anxious watchers on both banks strained their eyes to see how the venturesome craft would stand the blow. A path of foam followed the tornado as it tore along the lake. When this foam path struck the Dispatch she gave a quick lurch to the leeward and then went down like a shot. Searching parties were made up at once and soon several boats were being rowed over the spot where the Dispatch had been last seen. As the water there is 250 feet deep nothing could be seen of the little steamer.

At first it was believed the bodies of all the victims were caught in the boat and could not be recovered, not for the present at least. But after a few moments' cruising over the place where the boat went down one of the searching parties saw an object floating. Hastily rowing to it it was found to be the body of Miss Hogan. The air in her large balloon sleeves had kept her from sinking. She appeared to have been overcome by the waves swished into her face by the storm. When found her face was under water and the sleeves were slowly filling. The body was hauled into one of the boats and taken to shore.

It is feared other boats have sunk in remote parts of the lake. Dragging the lake for the bodies not recovered from the Dispatch was begun early this morning.

The tornado which proved so disastrous to the people on the lake did much damage on land. Many of the cottages here were damaged more or less. Fully a thousand trees in Lake Geneva were blown down. The people here were terribly frightened for a time. The damage to gardens is large.

RECORD OF STORM'S WORK.

With Full Returns the List of Killed and Injured Will Be Appalling.

St. Louis, July 8.—Thursday morning the last telegraphic reports began to arrive in this city of rains at western points. These reports grew in number Friday and their tenor included a large territory, indicating that the entire eastern watershed of the Rocky Mountains, from the Nebraska and Iowa lines to Texas, was swept by a storm. Friday night the severest blow came. Reports of loss of life and destruction of property came with every telegram, and the downpour which first was regarded as a blessing grew into a wave of devastation. Many fields of grain that promised the most bountiful yield in years were swept bare of vegetation. In several instances the seas of rain were abetted in their work of destruction by tornadoes.

It is too early yet to sum up the loss, but the total must be appalling, and those to whom the angry elements spared life have little left to sustain it. The stories of storm are so similar that a statistical summary is all there is left to tell.

The storm focus embraced an area of 200 square miles, with the southwestern corner of Missouri as the center. The greatest loss of life is reported from Winona, Mo., where eleven bodies have been found, with as many more missing.

At Baxter Springs, in southwestern Kansas, five were killed and eleven seriously injured by a cyclone that accompanied the storm.

One was drowned at Columbus and two at Ottawa, Kan.

At Van Buren, Ark., a mother and her babe were drowned.

A family of five camped on the banks of Fish Creek, in Indian Territory. Yesterday nothing of them or their belongings were found except a part of their wagon on a pile of drift wood.

At Thomasville, Mo., where the rainfall was four inches in one hour, five persons were lost.

Unconfirmed reports are received of loss of life as follows:

Three at Fayetteville, Ark.; one at Paoli, Kan.; one at Richards, Kan., and six of a hunting party in Indian Territory.

This gives a known and probable loss of forty-three lives. This total will be increased when the receding water permits a thorough search. The loss in property can be placed in the millions. Dwellings, fences and farm buildings were carried off and wagon and railroad bridges swept away. Thirty of the eighty buildings in Winona succumbed. Five residences, a church and a warehouse went down at Baxter Spring. Six bridges went out in Russell county, Kansas. About Jefferson City, Mo., many square miles of growing grain were covered with debris. Traffic on the Fort Scott and Memphis railway is temporarily suspended.

Reports of damage to property other than noted in the foregoing come from five points in Kansas, nine in Missouri, six in Arkansas, two in Indian Territory. The storm spent itself in Illinois, but, having lost its force, proved a blessing to crops.

These summaries give only a fraction of loss in property. The greatest burden falls upon the farmers, as the season is too far spent to plant new crops and suffering must surely follow in the storm's wake. It is feared the country's granary has been cleaned out. Details of individual suffering and experiences would fill volumes.

CYCLONE IN THE SOUTH.

Two Deaths Reported in Georgia—Complete Returns Not In.

Eaton, Ga., July 8.—A terrific cyclone swept across this county and Morgan, which adjoins. Reports are coming in slowly, but two deaths are reported, and the list of fatalities may run up to ten. The path of the storm was eight miles west of here. The dead: ADAMS, HENRY, white, Willard Station. HARDY, BOB, colored, Willard Station.

The injured: Penick, Andrew, Morgan County; will die. Penick, Mrs. Andrew, Morgan County; seriously hurt.

Collier, two children; will die. Conductor Tyson, of Middle Georgia and Atlantic, with his train, had a thrilling experience. He left Covington at 4 o'clock. Thirty miles below that town he saw the cyclone approaching from the west. It was three miles behind him, and a half mile to the south of the track, but its course was such that he could tell that it would cross the railway. He signalled the engineer, and the latter undertook to run away from the cyclone. For five miles the race was thrilling. Regular stops were passed at the rate of fifty miles per hour by the train, and the cyclone came along just behind, traveling seventy-five per hour faster. The train just did escape the severe part of the storm, and as it was the coaches reeled as though they would leave the track.

At Willard Station every house was torn to pieces. Henry Adams, white, and Bob Hardy, colored, were killed outright. Buildings, fences and crops on the Marlin plantation were carried away. The men who started out to follow the path of the cyclone after it left ports could not be obtained last night. Twenty persons are known to have been badly injured, and the list of fatalities will be hardly less than ten.

TORNADO STRIKES CHICAGO.

Five Men Drowned Within Sight of the City.

Chicago, July 8.—With only the warning of a darkening sky and a sudden roar of thunder a terrific storm of wind and rain rushed over the city at 6 o'clock last night, carrying death in its path. Those who suffered by the squall are: The dead:

"DAGO DAVE," a bumboatman, drowned in the basin.

ROSS, JOHN, captain of the yacht Pilot, drowned off the mouth of the river.

THREE UNKNOWN MEN, drowned off the foot of Twenty-second street.

The injured:

Grant M. Lee, hands cut by broken glass in a store.

Boedlow, August, injured in wreck of Panhandle tower-house, bruised and left leg broken.

Price, Ellis, taken in an exhausted condition from capsized yacht Iger.

Newcomb, William, taken in an exhausted condition from capsized yacht Ilder.

Domestic, name not known; injured by broken glass in the Grand Central railway station.

Barry, Thomas, taken in an exhausted condition from a skiff in the outer harbor.

The storm beat furiously against the city from the west, darting through all the streets as it gathered in strength, uprooting trees, tugging at the roofs of houses and beating up clouds of dust. Streets in the downtown district which end at the lake front were filled with whirling signs, torn awnings and choking clouds of dust that rose high above the highest buildings. All view of the lake was shut off, and the fleeing crowds staggered blindly through a whirling mass of sand that pierced the skin like needles. A little light penetrated the dark tumult with faint gleams of red and yellow, and the roar of wind and thunder added the grandeur of sound to the wild scene. Much damage in the shape of wrecked signs and broken windows are reported in the city and suburbs, but no loss of life.

KANSAS TOWN BLOTTED OUT.

Canton, in McPherson County, Wrecked and Twenty-five Persons Hurt.

Topeka, Kan., July 8.—Every building in Canton, McPherson County, was wrecked and twenty-five persons were injured, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon by a tornado that came sweeping down from the north. Two women, four children and one man were fatally injured. The storm caught the people unawares. They were out for a Sunday afternoon stroll, enjoying the weather, which was pleasant, save for the heat. Suddenly a tornado swept down upon the little village. The people made a mad rush for the nearest houses. Having got inside the houses, they scrambled into the cellar, and huddled there in terror.

In an instant the entire town was filled with flying debris. Roofs were lifted bodily from the houses and whirled away like bits of lath. The wind then took the exposed interiors of the houses with one swoop, and in a twinkling the sides were leveled with the ground. It is considered a marvel that no one was killed outright. The names of the injured have not been learned here yet. A piteous appeal for medical aid was sent out from Canton. The wounded and dying are lying about in temporary shanties, constructed by their more fortunate fellow-townsmen. They seem to be almost without medical aid. It is feared the exposure and lack of proper care will prove fatal to many who otherwise would recover. It is impossible as yet to ascertain the amount of damage in the country south of Canton.

TELEGRAPH WIRES DOWN.

Full Extent of Damage in Tennessee and Arkansas Not Known.

Memphis, Tenn., July 8.—A cyclone swept over West Tennessee and Eastern Arkansas and North Mississippi at 11:30 o'clock last night. Nearly all telegraph and telephone wires are down, and the full extent of the damage cannot be ascertained at this hour, but the loss is known to be enormous.

At Pine Bluff, Ark., several buildings were wrecked, and the debris scattered for miles. The cyclone came up from the southwest, preceded by a fiery cloud which made the heavens appear as if they were ablaze. The wind after leaving Pine Bluff, passed on toward Memphis, and struck the high bluff on the river, five miles below the city. The bluff deflected the furious wind, and it Covington, a town of about 3,000 inhabitants north of Memphis, where great damage was done. Houses in the southern part of Covington were demolished, orchards ruined and fences carried away.

WIND AND RAIN IN IOWA.

Much Injury to Crops Reported—Shade Trees Blown Down.

Red Oak, Iowa, July 8.—A strong wind and a driving rain about 11 o'clock yesterday did considerable damage to oats and spring wheat almost ready for harvest. The grain was laid flat, and can be cut only by running the harrow one way. The wind was a straight, strong blow and the grain is not twisted. Shocks of fall wheat harvested the last week were blown over the fields. Some damage was done to the corn, it being tender and breaking easily, but there is still assurance of a fine crop, this rain supplementing frequent rains in June.

Clinton, Iowa, July 8.—The damaging drouth in this district was broken yesterday afternoon by a heavy fall of rain which was accompanied by a strong wind which broke down hundreds of shade trees throughout the city.

HAIL AND WIND IN WISCONSIN.

Damage Confined to Roofs of Houses and Grain Fields.

Delavan, Wis., July 8.—The most destructive rain and hail and wind storm that ever visited this locality came yesterday afternoon. The wind blew down houses and barns, uprooted trees and plowed up cornfields. On the south shore of Delavan Lake the devastation was greatest. A portion of the roof of Mettewee hotel was blown off and great trees were broken like pipe stems. Two barns and a house on the John Powers farm was blown down and the piazzas of several farm houses were torn off. The wind was accompanied by a deluge of rain and by great hailstones that broke windows and leveled the fields of grain. The roads and fields are strewn with debris of trees, fences and buildings. No loss of life reported.

Felt at Savanna, Ill.

Savanna, Ill., July 8.—A storm amounting almost to a western cyclone struck this place yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Black clouds rolled by high in the air. The wind was something terrific. It seemed to consist up from the southwest and at the same time large clouds of sand appeared in the west. The storm center seemed to be a number of small whirlwinds. Many trees were blown down. The thermometer dropped from 97 to 76 in fifteen minutes. Little rain fell here, but there was a heavy storm to the south. No very considerable damage is reported from any point in the state.

Struck by Lightning.

Apalachicola, Fla., July 8.—George Long, Marion Long, Clem Eldridge and the Misses Carrie Johnson and Emma Euton were struck by lightning yesterday. McKinley is said to be dead. There has been no arrests. The entire county is intensely excited.

Huntington, W. Va., July 8.—James Lang, one of the striking miners, arrived here yesterday, and expressed a hope that there would be no need for the troops in that locality on account of the trouble and differences between the operators and men. The miners, he said, asked only for what was just. The operators had agreed to pay them 75 cents for each carload of coal of two tons mined, but the cars had been increased in size to about four tons, with no increase in the coal diggers' pay. The men then agreed to enter into a scale agreement of 35 cents a ton, have the coal weighed, but this the operators had declined to grant. The large number of miners put to work at Thacker, he said, were now ready to join the strikers, and he thought that unless an amicable settlement was entered into by all sides by the 15th trouble would be apt to ensue.

HURT IN A TROLLEY CAR.

One Killed and Six Injured at Niles, Ohio.

Quadros as war minister and Admiral Goncalves as minister of marine. ### MR. AND MRS. G. CLEVELAND—GIRL.

Buzzard's Bay, July 8.—At Gray Gables yesterday afternoon at 4:30 a girl baby was born to President and Mrs. Cleveland. Dr. Bryant, the attending physician, says that both mother and child are doing well. This is the third child born into the President's family, and all of them are girls. Ruth is 4 years old and Esther 2. Only a passing glance could be obtained from the President yesterday, but that was sufficient to note an expression of satisfaction on the face of the chief executive, although it was an open secret that a boy baby would not have been unwelcome. Mrs. Cleveland's mother, Mrs. Perrine, is expected to arrive from Buffalo this week.

Ruth Cleveland, the first child, was born Saturday, October 3, shortly after midnight at No. 816 Madison avenue, New York.

Esther, the second child, was born in the White House, September 9, 1893. Dr. Bryant attended Mrs. Cleveland on both of these occasions.

There were several callers at Gray Gables Saturday afternoon, and Dr. Bryant did not leave until midnight. He went up to the house early in the morning and did not appear again until he announced the good news from the front door.

BY WHOSE HAND WAS HE KILLED

Was It Murder or Suicide Edgerton Folks Ask.

WELL DRESSED STRANGER'S MYSTERIOUS END.

Body Found Behind a Clump of Trees After Lying There Three Months—Stranger Seems to Have Been Left Handed But Was Shot From the Right—Many Circumstances That Officers Regard as Significant.

"Murder or suicide?" asked Edgerton people of one another when they met on the streets Sunday.

The blackened, shriveled horror, that was once a man, had been brought from Newville and covered by loose weeds in the back part of the Edgerton cemetery. The dogwood bushes which concealed him for three months had been searched for further clues. The inquest was over and the coroner's jury discharged.

But how did he come to that well-dressed traveler in a lonely thicket on the river shore was as much a mystery as ever.

When the body was found it was leaning against a clump of three basswoods. The legs extended toward the river and the feet could not have been six inches above the water's edge three months ago. One leg was crossed under the other, the arms were in an attitude of rest and the position of the body was that of a man lying against a tree asleep.

Almost too restful.

That was the first thought. The pose, seemed artificial, as if the limbs might have been arranged after death.

"Would a suicide dispose himself with all the art of a professional undertaker, and then preserve the attitude while death came on?"

Pistol Had Two Chambers Empty.

Beside the body lay a 32 calibre revolver with two chambers empty. It lay a couple of feet from the left hand and a satchel lay near it on the same side. From all indications the man was left handed and yet the only hole found that answers for a bullet wound was in the right side of the nasal process, penetrating the socket of the right eye and bearing to the left. Nobody could say whether it was a bullet hole or not, but for a left handed man to shoot in the direction shown would have been very difficult.

Until the dead man's identity is known, and a more thorough search has established the presence or absence of wounds the mystery cannot be cleared.

Murder it may be but no motive is apparent.

Suicide it would seem to be, but numerous details are difficult to explain.

Edgerton people don't like to admit that another murder has been committed in their neighborhood, but very few of them can be found who are satisfied with the suicide theory.

"We don't care for the glory of an another murder, but if there has been one, we want the guilty man brought to book," said one.

Even members of the coroner's jury refused to accept the theory of suicide, and one declared emphatically that facts which came to light after the inquest, convinced him there had been a murder.

Air Full of Horrible Odors.

For two months a sickening smell has come from the bushes west of the Newville bridge. Three quarters of a mile from the bridge is a stretch where the river road to Janesville passes within thirty feet of the river. Here the odor was most perceptible. Hans Vokalin, John Sherman and Kirk Peck, driving by to the creamery noticed it often. Early in May men were working the road there and somebody said:

"There must be a dead sheep stuck in the bushes down here."

Ten feet away, had he but known it, lay the body of a man. At that time identification would have been possible and the police would have had something to work on. So thoroughly shielded was the body by the three basswood trees and the dense brush that it could not be seen unless by a man standing almost beside it.

The road gang paid no further attention to the odor and after that nobody noticed it but the few farmers who use the road in going to Newville creamery. Saturday two little German boys, Hans Dolman and Robert Busch, were paddling a boat about the river and found it as the spot where the basswood trees cast their shade.

They chained the boat to a stump and parted the thick bushes between them and the trees.

A grinning skull with little flaps of dried flesh and tendon hanging here and there faced them. The skull was bare, for the scalp, with its thick, brown hair had slipped off and fallen back into the hat. Three or four teeth stuck out from each jaw, the others having dropped out. Fat, brown bugs ran in and out of the eye sockets; and around the neck, where a little flesh still remained, insects were at work in swarms. Instead of hands the dead man seemed to have blackened and withered hooks of bone.

For the briefest moment the boys stood.

Terror held them.

Then with a yell they turned and sprang into their boat. They didn't unlock their boat chain—they broke the lock. Never did the two boys row as those twelve-year-olds getting away from that black-faced apparition under the trees. They got to Newville, told what they had seen; and beginning to realize the importance of their discovery, put on airs over the other Newville boys all the afternoon.

It didn't take long to get the news from Newville to Edgerton and everybody waited until Justice Spencer had summoned a coroner's jury before the body was disturbed. Then Dr. McManus and the justice began an examination.

Not Much to Be Learned.

Justice Spencer opened the man's coat and moved one shoulder. As he did so the head toppled off the neck and rolled down through the arms of the startled justice. All the tendons and muscles of the neck were gone.

As a matter of fact, very little was left but the bones. The brain cavity was empty. The soft portions of the head had all disappeared except that a few bits of skin adhered to the temples.

The body was clad in a well made suit of black, double breasted sack coat and double breasted vest. Three pairs of pantaloons were found, one over the other. The shirt was of pique and the underwear was of good quality. No tears in the clothing could be found to indicate a struggle, nor were any bullet holes apparent.

Not a thing was found in the pockets to show the owner's identity.

There was a pocket book containing 90 cents, and a little card case such as the Antikamnia Drug Co. sends out. Not a letter was found anywhere although the man was evidently in correspondence with somebody as he had a blank postal card in his pocket and blank envelopes in his valise.

The valise contained underclothing, a bottle of vaseline, a tooth brush, a new pair of shoes, collars, a black silk necktie and two railway time cards—a Milwaukee & St. Paul and a Northern Pacific. The valise looked to be new and was of imitation alligator skin.

Death By Cause Unknown.

The coroner's jury, consisting of A. W. Fessenden, Oscar Thompson, George McGiffin, Harry Ash, W. S. Heddles and E. B. Arthur viewed the remains and heard the statements of the Dolman and Kusch boys and Dr. McManus. The facts developed were substantially as here given, and after brief deliberation the jury returned a verdict of death by cause unknown.

Sunday morning the body was taken to the Edgerton cemetery. It was in a pine coffin case and was not buried, the case being set in a remote part of the cemetery and covered with loose weeds. Further examination is likely to be made before the burial is ordered. Sheriff Appleby, District Attorney Jackson, Constable Cochran, Dr. E. D. Roberts and two Gazette men formed the funeral escort, and before the case was screwed down another examination was made that no marks of identification be overlooked. The hat worn by the dead man was a black derby of fashionable shape, having a pronounced roll to the brim and three eyelet holes in each side. The hair which still lay in it, having slipped back from the skull was light brown and abundant. Besides new shoes in his valise the man had on a pair of shoes almost new his size being 8 1/2. Nothing could be found upon him bearing an address. Even the tag in the back of the coat was missing although this looked as though it might have worn off. From all indications the man was about thirty-five or forty years of age, of more than medium height and well developed.

Authorities Are in the Dark.

District Attorney Jackson, Sheriff Appleby and Constable Cochran spent Saturday evening and all day Sunday running down a fantastic array of clues. Courtland Lockner had a hired man leave suddenly in the spring, but his description and the dead man's did not fit. H. E. Maxson heard furious driving on the river road about 1 o'clock at night early in May and heard the same team come back over the Newville bridge at a breakneck speed two hours later. He said at the time that grain thieves must be at work. It was pointed out to the officers, moreover, that the clump of butternut trees offered the first hiding place that could be found in some distance coming up the river.

At first sight both the sheriff and the district attorney were disposed to say "suicide," and nothing to justify a different belief is likely to be found. Several details are difficult to explain, on this basis, however, and a close watch will be kept for any clue that may appear. The only identification mark found was on a handkerchief—a laundry check, either "M. I." or "M. 1."

If the case is one of suicide it is

TWO PACING KINGS ARE TO MEET HERE

JOF PATCHEN (2:04) AND STRATHBERRY (2:06) MATCHED.

Duel to Occur at the Janesville Track Next Monday July 15—Over Four Hundred Horses Are Entered For the Big Meeting and It Will Be Wisconsin's Best.

To say that Janesville is going to have the biggest trotting meeting that was ever held on Wisconsin soil is making a pretty broad assertion, but such is the case. The list of entries received is fully double the size of any previous list and includes over four hundred horses. Nearly every class has one or more sensational performers, and in addition to the regular program, the association have, after many days' correspondence, arranged a match between Joe Patchen, 2:04 and Strathberry, 2:06, which comes off on Monday, July 15. These are two of the fastest animals in the world. Joe Patchen is the only horse in the world who has defeated Robert J., the champion pacer, but Robert had to lower his colors before the fleet son of Patchen Wilkes in a recent duel in California. Joe Patchen's owner, Col. John G. Taylor, will give Robert J. another match at any time that the champion's owners wish.

Strathberry, who will be Patchen's Janesville opponent, on Friday took the world's record on a half mile track, and is as speedy as the wind itself. This match will be one of the sensations of the year and should fill the Fair grounds to overflowing. The Driving Park association are in hopes that the people will appreciate their liberality by turning out, and booming the best trotting meeting ever held in the northwest.

A Fine Lot of Flyers Coming.

It is seldom indeed that such a lot of horses meet at the same course. The 2:10 pacing class, for instance would have been considered a phenomenal free-for-all a few years ago. In it are entered Rooky P., Belle Mahone, Badge, Albert E., Lena Hill, Tom Ogden, Symboler, Two Strike, Vera Capelle, Fido, Frank Agan, Jordan, Princess Eulalia and last but not least Gazette. The horse that wins this race will not pace in the 2:10 class again for a 2:10 gait will not be fast enough to win. The track record is now 2:12 made by Rocker in the free-for-all pacing class last summer, but horses in half a dozen races will go faster than that. The 2:10 pacing race will cut this to 2:09 at least and it may be cut still further.

Fourteen stars will start in the 2:12 trotting class and that too, will be a battle royal. B. P., the horse that won the $20,000 purse at Chicago, Senator A., the speedy grey campaigner, Regal Wilkes, Kentucky Union, (who made Fantasy 2:06 and Directum, 2:05) go a fast mile at Minneapolis; Commodore Porter, Nina Medium, Brown Dick, Barquette, Mand C., Klamath, Bourbon Wilkes, Jr., Jack, Mark Sirus and Pactolus compose the field and the time made will be 2:10 at least.

Other Fast Classes Fill.

The regular class races in addition to the $1000 stakes, closed July 2 and the lists were issued today. They include the 2:22 pacing class, fifteen entries; the 2:15 trotting class with four entries; the 2:15 pacing class with nineteen entries; the 2:26 trotting class with twenty seven entries; and the 2:33 pacing class with eleven entries.

The 2:15 trotting and pacing classes are aggregations of stars. The trotting class is composed of such campaigners as Maggie Sherman, who recently trotted in 2:12 1/2, Kate Phallamont, who made Maggie go in that time; Maud Wright, Selina F., Luzelle, Monette, Impetuous, Adelaide Simmons, A. McGregor, Alta, Roslyn, Baron Rogers, Margrave and Dan Velox.

The 2:15 pacing class includes Dempsey, Clark, Nellie R., Emma Wilkes, Judge Hart, Shawhan, Miss Williams, Attempt, Nellie M., Nina T., Drelincourt, May Hill, S. G. A., Sphinxetta, Alice Director, and Giles Noyes. All of these horses can pace under their records, and fast time will be made. It is hard to decide which will be the best day, as all days will be big days.

The 2:10 Pace Will Be Hot.

The 2:10 pacing class race promises to be an unusually hot contest. At Minneapolis on Saturday five horses that will be in that class here, started. Tom Ogden was the winner with Frank Agan second, Moonstone, a horse that is not entered here third, Two Strike fourth, Albert E. fifth and Bell Mahone distanced, the time being 2:11. At Des Moines, the week before they went in 2:10 1/2 in that class. Two Strike was also a winner at Oshkosh, pacing in fast time. In addition Rocky P., Badge, Lena Hill, Symboler, Vera Capella, Fido, Jordan, Princess Eulalia and Gazette will be in that class here.

Secretary McKinney says it will be the best race meeting ever held in Wisconsin and as he has attended them all he certainly ought to know. The horses are already beginning to arrive and one hundred or more are now at the track.

A LAD from the country came into a Marinette bicycle store Thursday to have his bicycle repaired. He had punctured it out in the country and not knowing how to repair it had filled the inner tube with bran and rode into the city eight miles in this manner.

BICYCLE LOCK MADE BY JANESVILLE MEN

E. C. BAILEY AND W. S. POND GET A PATENT.

Their Invention Is Said to Be the Best One Yet Given Out and It Will Be Manufactured Here—The Trips Taken By Local Riders Yesterday—Gossip From Wheelmen.

Two Janesville men have invented and will soon begin the manufacture of what is said to be the best cycle lock in the country. They are E. C. Bailey and W. S. Pond, and the invention is their joint production. They have received their patent and there is no reason why it will not prove a great success. The lock will prove valuable to cyclists, especially in the larger cities, where their lock chains are being continually cut by thieves. The lock is made of malleable iron and weighs but four ounces. It is bolted on the wheel near the sprocket and the combination works a latch which is thrown into the sprocket wheel. Every lock has a different combination. Arrangements are now being made with a local machinist to manufacture the locks in this city, and doubtless they will have a large sale.

BERT LINCOLN left the city at 5:30 yesterday morning bound for Delavan. After remaining in that village a few hours he left for Elkhorn, where he had dinner, after which he rode back to Delavan, but on account of the wind and rain he had to take the train to Clinton, where he caught the vestibule. On the same train there were seventeen other cyclists who had been caught in the rain and were returning home.

In the recent road race to Crystal Springs, while out three miles, the boys met a farmer with a load of stone, who was in the middle of a four foot road. When asked to move to one side he remarked that he wouldn't turn out an inch for the best wheel in the country, so they had to go around.

The good roads movement that has been taken up all over the country by the L. A. W., is slowly but surely having its effects upon the farmers of Rock county, and a great many improvements are to be noticed about the country, in the way of good roads.

WILLIAM FIELD, the general manager of the Twin City's street car line, and a former Janesville resident, says that the bicycle craze has struck Minneapolis and St. Paul so hard that it has hurt their business to the extent of $1000 a day.

In Saturday's road race to Crystal Springs, two of the fastest riders in Southern Wisconsin were entered, they being Van Wort of Beloit, and Cnare of Evansville. Both have won many medals and are well known in cycling circles.

The placing of glass and tacks upon the highways about the city has ceased to be a joke, and the guilty parties will be severely dealt with if they can be located. It is "malicious mischief" and the penalty is a fine.

ROBERT BEAR left the city at 5:30 yesterday morning bound for Darien, where he remained during the day, but on account of the rain he took the train to Clinton, and he returned home in the evening on the vestibule.

The second matinee of track racing will be given at the race track by the Arrow Cyclers, Friday evening, commencing at 6:30 o'clock. Prizes will be given, and there is little reason why the crowd should not be large.

GEORGE WIGGIN and L. VanWart, of Evansville, were in the city yesterday. Mr. Wiggins has been here since the recent road race while VanWart rode down early yesterday morning. Both returned home on the vestibule.

THERE will be no bicycle races in connection with the July harness meet. There are a great many horses now entered, and every race will have to be called on time each day so as to finish them before dark.

JOSEPH VANKIRK and Shepard Sheldon started out yesterday to make Hartland, but when near Palmyra, rain put a stop to their trip and that was as far as they went.

WHEELS are being stolen in large numbers all over the country, and the police and Sheriff Appleby are being daily informed to be on the lookout for stolen bikes.

IN a recent trip to Geneva Lake taken by a number of cyclists they lost their way seven different times, all on account of the lack of sign boards.

ELMER POWERS who has been camping at Sugar River near Brodhead the past week, arrived in the city last evening on his wheel.

YESTERDAY's rain storm caught many a cyclist away from home and piled trouble high on his patient shoulders. That much talked of race between two local cyclists seems to have been declared off.

WHY? QUESTIONS WOMEN ASK

Here Answered with Good Sound Reason.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.) Why do people say that Lydia E. Pinkham's treatment, especially her Vegetable Compound, effects cures beyond the physician's skill?

Because of the fact that a woman best understands a woman's ills. What man ever suffered a single pang like only woman? Man works from theory only. Why do tens of thousands of women write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., telling their most secret thoughts?

Because they know that their letters go straight to the hands of a woman, are opened, read, and answered by a woman, who as a woman has made woman's ills a life study, and because she never fails them, and cures cases which the doctor cannot.

The lady who asks that the following letter be published, gives concisely the uniform expression of gratitude contained in thousands of other letters in Mrs. Pinkham's possession.

"For eight years I suffered with neuralgia of the womb, backache, severe pains all through my body, and kidney trouble. None of the doctors did me any good. I took twelve bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and cannot thank you enough for the relief I found."

"I am now well cured of all those pains. I should advise every woman to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound who has any female trouble. I had a friend who was to go under an operation. I advised her first to try the Compound. She did, and is now so much better and stronger she has given up all thoughts of the operation."—Mrs. M. WILDE, 2137 Park St., Tioga, Pa.

Narcoti-Cure

CURES THE TOBACCO HABIT IN 4 TO 10 DAYS OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Use All the Tobacco You Want Till Your "Craving" is Gone.

Narcoti-Cure is the only remedy in the world that acts directly on the nerves and drives the nicotine from the system in four to ten days. It leaves the patient in better health than before taking, and is warranted free from all injurious ingredients.

Narcoti-Cure is popular because it allows the patient to use all the tobacco he wants while under treatment, or until the "craving" and "hankering" are gone. It is then no sacrifice to throw away tobacco forever.

Narcoti-Cure is sold at the uniform price of $5 a bottle, and one bottle cures.

Money refunded if a cure is not effected when taken according to directions.

The Narcoti Chemical Co.,
Springfield, Mass.
Gentlemen:—Replying to yours of the 1st would say that I have used tobacco for 46 years and of late have consumed a 10 cent plug a day, besides smoking considerably. I commenced to use tobacco when I was only 11 years old, and have never been able to give up the habit until I took Narcoti-Cure, although I have tried other so-called remedies without effect. After using your remedy four days all "hankering" for chewing disappeared, and in four days more smoking became unpleasant. I have no further desire for the weed, and experienced no bad effects, whatever. I am gaining flesh, and feel better than I have for a long time. To all who wish to be free from the tobacco habit I would say use Narcoti-Cure.
Yours truly, W. N. WAITE.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1721—Elihu Yale, founder of Yale college, died; born in New Haven 1648.
1738—General Abercrombie attacked Ticonderoga with 15,000 men and was repulsed with a loss of 2,000.
1760—Fitz Greene Halleck, poet, was born in Guilford, Conn.; died there 1867.
1822—Percy Bysshe Shelley was drowned in the bay of Spezia; born 1792. The circumstances of Shelley's death were peculiarly tragic. He left England in order to retain the custody of his child by Mary Godwin and settled in Italy. A boat in which he sailed from Leghorn disappeared during a sudden squall, and the poet's body was washed ashore. Under the quarantine regulations that everything cast up by the sea should be burned his remains were cremated in the presence of his friends Byron and Leigh Hunt and the ashes placed in a grave beside that of Keats.
1852—Frightful destruction by fire at St. John's, N. F., two-thirds of the city, including the cathedral and many public buildings, being destroyed, at a loss of $10,000,000; 20 persons killed and 8,000 made homeless.

THE PASSING OF THE SILVER ISSUE

There can be no doubt about the fact that the free-silver sentiment is rapidly subsiding.

At the time when the Illinois democratic convention was held it looked as if nothing could prevent the desire for cheap money from taking possession of the west and south, and making that question the predominant one in the campaign of 1896. But since then a pronounced change has taken place, and the people who seemed about to lose their heads upon a subject of vital importance have thought the matter over and concluded to act differently.

Not another state convention has been called to declare for free silver, and not another victory of any kind has been gained in favor of that theory. Wherever a test has been made, the result has been to the advantage of the sound money cause.

The intelligence of the masses is asserting itself in the right direction, and the issue that threatened at one time to supersede all others and to cause endless trouble is now likely to be removed in the course of a few months.

MAGAZINES AND ADVERTISEMENTS.

The editor of the Atlantic Monthly says that no one should spend more than ten minutes a day in reading newspapers. If women should be thus restricted, can any one doubt that they would spend five minutes of the ten in reading the advertisements, and spend them wisely? Women were not always so eager for the literature of trade; but this literature has improved, and at the same time the feminine mind has grown more acutely practical, and now finds in the perusal of such newly advertised advertisements as The Gazette's both intellectual pleasure and substantial profit.

Since a republican congress settled doubts about tariff legislation the rise in workingmen's wages has been steady. Up to date five hundred and twenty-one institutions have advanced the scale of pay, 419,000 employees being affected. The best of it is the country is not likely to fall into democratic hands and drop wages back to the old peg for some time to come.

You don't find workingmen asking why wages have advanced. In every shop there is a buoyancy caused by the knowledge that the conditions which caused the late depression cannot be repeated because of the recent and approaching republican victories.

The monthly deficits are likely to be smaller hereafter, but there is no assurance that they will disappear until the republicans resume control of the national finances.

Nothing indicates so clearly the dying out of the silver craze in the south as the rapidly increasing number of sound money newspapers in that section.

An Explanation.

We stand up to explain our great 50 cents on the dollar sale. When we pay a dollar for a shoe we sell it for one dollar and fifty cents. That's what we call 50 cents on the dollar. We ain't buying to make money, just keep store to benefit tired, shoeless humanity. We don't intend to let any body get the best of our great 50 cents on the dollar deal. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

No Prettier Place Than Pewaukee.

Pewaukee Lake has long been regarded as one of the most attractive lakes in Wisconsin. Electric cars leave the C. & N. W. Ry. depot in Waukesha every fifteen minutes for this lake. Remember the round trip to Waukesha, via C. & N. W. Ry., Thursday, July 11, is only $1.50. Leave Janesville 9:10 a. m. Positively no crowded cars.

Eighty Acres For Sale.

For sale, cheap—eighty acres farm land near Sparta, or will trade for lot well located in the city. Enquire at Gazette office.

A Menagerie Man's Satire.

Some time ago the proprietor of a traveling wild beast menagerie well known in Italy quarreled with his wife and the pair separated. The wife soon afterward went into business on her own account in the wild beast line. Last week the husband's menagerie arrived in Bologna, and it was followed two days later by that of his wife. The husband was equal to the occasion. He had the walls of the town placarded with the following ambiguous announcement: "In consequence of the arrival of my wife in this town, my stock of wild beasts has been increased."—London Daily News.

Difficult to Answer.

"It is bad enough to lose one's temper," said the good deacon to his Sunday school class, "but how infinitely worse to swear over it."

The little fat man on the front seat nervously mopped off his forehead.

"I'd like to know what you're going to do," he said, "when you are a baker, and just as you get your arms buried in a tub of dough two hundred flies make the discovery that the whole top of your head is bald?"

The deacon said he hadn't thought of that.—N. Y. Recorder.

Honestly Won.

"How did you get the title of 'general'?" asked a hero-worshipping girl.

"I cut my way to it," was the proud reply.

"On the field?"

"No; in Bill Wiggins' hotel. There were only two men in our town in Kentucky who had ever been in the army at all, so we cut the cards to see which should be 'general' and which 'colonel.'"—Washington Star.

A Honeymoon in Italy.

A day or two after his marriage Bariccolletti met his friend Gelsonini on the English promenade at Nice.

"What, you here?"

"Yes, I am on my wedding tour."

"And your wife?"

"She has staid at Milan to mind the house."—Il Carlino.

An Average Housekeeper.

Mrs. Bingle (a day later)—Mercy on us! Mary! The sun is shining right in on the carpets. Close the shutters.—N. Y. Weekly.

Kept His Vow.

"And did he really keep his vow of committing suicide when he found she would not marry him?"

"Why, yes; in a fashion. He drank himself to death."

"Oh! killed himself on the installment plan, did he?"—Indianapolis Journal.

Is It a Fair Day's Pay?

The Maid—Pardon, mais madame must consideire zat eet eez a day's wurk for zee hen.—Judge.

Disapproved.

Willie—What does a still, small voice mean, papa?

Willie's Father—That's what anyone hears, Willie, when they have done wrong.

That Was the Trouble.

"There's the rub. She still has it."—Town Topics.

Great Consumption.

Hofack—The air seems rarer than it used to be.

Tomdick—Well, perhaps it is rarer. You know that a good deal is being used in pneumatic bicycle tires now.—Harper's Bazar.

About Time.

Father of Large Family—My dear, isn't it about time you were thinking of getting married?

Daughter—Land sakes! I haven't thought of anything else for years.—N. Y. Weekly.

How They Whistle.

"Some men," said Uncle Eben, "kin whistle jes' eruf ter make dah neighbors mis'ble an' not eruf ter stop a street cah."—Washington Star.

Pare Food.

It is becoming more difficult as time passes to obtain purity in food products than in former years. There are so many brands of baking powder sold at low prices on the market which as a general thing are adulterated, that when a powder has been proven by the chemist's test to be absolutely pure, there should be general rejoicing among housewives. Perfection baking powder is being introduced in the city and can be relied upon for purity. Ask your grocer for it.

We Have the Sole Agency.

TROOPS HAVE INSTRUCTIONS.

Are Told to Use Their Guns Against Mobs of Strikers.

Washington, July 8.—President Cleveland has laid down explicit rules for the guidance of the army in dealing with mobs through the medium of the new army regulations which will soon be issued by the war department. The army has heretofore been without explicit orders in that respect. President Cleveland believes that when troops are called out to face mobs they must subdue them even if it is necessary to mow them down with a storm of bullets. This is shown by the instructions given in the regulations. The status of the mob is defined as a public enemy, provided it is forcibly resisting or obstructing the execution of the laws of the United States or attempting to destroy property belonging to or under the protection of the United States. President Cleveland, Gen. Schofield and Secretary Lamont, with the assistance of the attorney-general, laid down explicitly the rules under which troops should fire into a mob, and these have been incorporated in the regulations.

Big Battle Impends.

Tampa, Fla., July 8.—Passengers arriving from Havana on the steamer Mascotte say Campos is moving on the Santa Clara district with 4,000 men well armed and equipped. Gomez is coming toward Havana with a force of 4,000 men, all armed and equipped, and the probabilities are there will be a collision before many weeks. In his march Gomez is carrying the country before him, and the number of people joining the insurgents is simply astonishing. Gomez is reported as saying he wants no more men, but arms and ammunition.

they bought here were represented to be good until September 15, but eastern roads have refused to accept them after Sept. 1, in spite of all protests.
Much hard feeling has resulted.

MRS. BUYER CHASED HER WICKED SPOUSE

HER HUSBAND BORROWED HER
CASH AND LEFT.

She Traced Him and His Female Friend
From Chicago As Far As Janesville and Then Lost Track of Him—Dr.
Biglow Let Loose On Parole—
Police Stories.

It was in Janesville that Mrs. John Henry Buyer lost all trace of her husband and the woman with whom he had eloped. Mrs. Buyer and her husband lived near Lodi and for a time all went well. Then there came a cloud upon their domestic sky of happiness in the person of a young lady from Chicago. Buyer looked upon the fair Chicagoite and then fled with her. Mrs. Buyer set out to look him up but all her efforts were unsuccessful, but when she showed up a short time after, she forgave him and at his request lent him a hundred dollars and her watch. That same day he borrowed her horse and buggy for a ride, and without bidding her goodbye drove to Madison picking up his female companion by the way. They stopped there long enough to get a meal and then came to Janesville, further than which it was impossible to trace them. The horse is a splendid black animal, and the buggy almost new, with red gearing and black box and top. Sheriff Mickelson, of Madison, Dane county, has made one unsuccessful trip to Chicago in search of the missing pair, but as yet he has not found them. Mrs. Buyer swore out a warrant for the couple at Madison and promises to make it hot for them when she finds them.

"Dr." Biglow Leaves Town.
"Dr." P. L. Biglow "the man with the broken neck" cannot drink any more of William Canary's ginger ale without going to jail, not withstanding the fact that he defended himself when he was charged with being a common drunkard. He demanded a jury this morning when his case came before Judge Phelps, and after the jury had been drawn, made an attempt to gain freedom by objecting to the proceedings on account of jurisdiction, and moved that the defendant be discharged. He then delivered an eloquent plea in behalf of himself, basing his argument on the constitution of the United States, expressly prohibited the arrest of any citizen without due process of law. He also reminded the court that years ago Janesville had been mulct to the tune of seven or eight thousand dollars for unjustly robbing a citizen of his liberty. The "doctor" was growing eloquent when Judge Phelps suddenly reminded him that he was being tried under the statute law of Wisconsin and produced the warrant and complaint upon which the doctor was locked up. Then he weakened and agreed to leave town if he could but have the opportunity.
This arrangement was satisfactory to the state and the ginger ale of other cities will lubricate the "doctor's" broken neck in the future.

Try Bolivar Ryan Tomorrow.
The case of the state against Patrick alias "Bolivar" Ryan of Beloit, who is charged with the larceny of a small quantity of potatoes and some honey from a Beloit grocery store, was called in the municipal court this morning but after drawing a jury the case was adjourned until tomorrow morning. This is the second offence for the defendant and he takes the chance of going to Waupun.

Professor Borden of Milton, opened at the high school building this morning

150 and it is said that the attendance will be larger than at any other school in the state.

BY WHOSE HAND WAS HE KILLED?

hard to tell why a traveler—as the dead man certainly was—should carry his valise five miles from the nearest railway station before committing the deed.

If murder has been done it must have been at another spot and the body carried—as might very handily be done, either in wagon or boat—to where the butternuts offered their almost impenetrable shelter.

The suicide theory is the most probable, but as said before, these who were on the spot are slow to accept it.

CHICKS HATCHED BY WHOLESALE.
Four Hundred at a Time Ayers Brothers
Can Turn Out.

Four hundred chickens at a clip come out of their shells on the new Janesville poultry farm.

"Poultry farm?"
"Yes, that's the latest; and buildings with a capacity of 2,000 not horse—but chicken—power are building on Madison avenue. Harlie and Watson Ayers are the proprietors.
They have bought two full sized lots, and as said before are now erecting buildings 20 by 80 feet in size. The sheds are to be separated into apartments so that the chickens can be sized according to their age.

The incubator room is situated in the cellar, where incubators with a capacity of four hundred eggs are now at work. The temperature in the room is kept at 70 degrees all the time by kerosene, fourteen gallons running an incubator through a hatching, which takes from nineteen to twenty-two days. As soon as the chickens are hatched they are at once taken to the brooder, where they remain thirty-six hours without any feed, nature having provided for that. At the end of ten days all the eggs in the incubator are tested and all bad eggs are thrown out of the way. Ayer Brothers will depend mostly on the Chicago market for their trade and expect to have broilers for the market inside of nine weeks that will weigh from one and one-half to two pounds dressed.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS JOIN HANDS
Pleasant Day Celebration of Our Children Held Yesterday.

The second Sunday in June is the regular time for holding general exercises in Rock county Sunday schools, but two schools deferred it until yesterday, when the LaPrairie and Indian Ford classes met in spite of the threatening weather. The attendance was large and the singing and recitations were excellent, as was also the review of lessons.

Next Sabbath a grand township rally will be held at Emerald Grove, including the towns of Harmony,
Johnstown, La Prairie and Bradford.
Every school is expected to report and it is hoped that the attendance will be large. The singing will be from the Gospel hymns.

PROF. CAIL MERRITT IS DEAD.
Well Known Brass Band Instructor
Passes Away At Fidelity, Ill.

Professor Cail Merritt died at his home in Fidelity, Illinois, last week.
Professor Merritt at one time resided in Janesville, and was instructor and leader of the Bower City band when that band was considered one of the best musical organizations in the state. He also organized and instructed the Catholic Temperance Band. He had been the director of upwards of one hundred and thirty bands and was considered one of the ablest teachers in the country. His death will be deeply felt by his many Janesville friends.

One of the People's Ice Co's. wagons

BRIDGE WENT DOWN BEHIND THE TRAIN

FREIGHT CREW'S NARROW ESCAPE THIS MORNING.

Conductor Cross' Train Had Hardly Cleared Turtle Creek When There Was a Crash and the Water Was Full of Ironwork—Cars Blown Off
the Track Sunday.

The south bound St. Paul freight train had barely crossed the little bridge across Turtle creek, north of Beloit this morning, when the bridge swayed, trembled and went down.
It was a narrow escape from a tragedy.

News of the wreck was at once telephoned to this city and the construction crew notified.

This train, which consisted of sixteen cars, was in charge of Conductor
J. R. Cross.

Railroad men say that the heat of the past few days, followed by the sudden chill of yesterday's rain, loosened the rafters and the iron rods, so that the rattle of the train weakened the whole structure, while others think that a burr had worked off from one of the bolts on the rods.

All the trains on the Racine & Southwestern division have been running through Janesville today in consequence of the wreck.

Two freight cars were blown off the track at Evansville Sunday afternoon during the storm.

BOY THREATENED WITH LOCKJAW
Spasms Indicate That the Disease Will Attack Him.

Lockjaw may cause the death of Bert Thornton, who had his hand so terribly torn by the explosion of a bottle of powder some days ago. For a time he seemed to be getting along nicely, but now he is not so well, and the frequent light spasms with which he has been afflicted today indicate that lockjaw is likely to follow.

Dr. Q. O. Sutherland is in hopes that the dread disease will not develop but as twenty-four pieces of glass were picked from the boy's palm and as such injuries are often the cause of lockjaw, it may result in spite of all that can be done.

RESURRECTION.

Trust gives sweet peace to every living thing:
The wavering robin that in space has flown
Finds its safe nest; the germ of roses sown
Waits sure in darkness for the touch of spring;
The tendrils of the ivy blindly cling.
Stretching their brown threads toward the light
The wall unknown.

To find a place secure, where, spite the moon
Of rushing winds, they hang till soft airs sing.

We who love life fear most the mystic death,
Yet we in death the selfsame life shall live—
This very life we know—but glorified.
And the fair temple which now holds our breath

Shall simply take the glory scraps give,
Renew its joys and say, "I have not died."
—Maurice Francis Egan in Century.

KARL AND TARPUS.

Karl knelt down and took steady aim. Then came a flash and a report, and almost simultaneously with the rebound of his immense rifle the huge, crouching lioness, the black lioness, hurled herself upon him. He was borne down as if by an avalanche.

He had missed. Why? For this reason: As he aimed between her eyes out of them flashed a strange, strange light that quivered the core of his being; a light that unnerved his hand and withered his desire to kill.

And it smote him not with fear—for Karl had slain many lions, and his nerves were as steel—but it smote him with sudden, overwhelming remorse.

Thus he, the mighty hunter, was shaken and made to send his bullet flying wide.

And he lay in the grip of death. Though he felt that his end had come, he had that clearness and peace of mind which come in supreme moments.

The noisome breath of the lioness burned his face as he lay crushed into the sand by her weight. He was waiting, with eyes closed, for the beginning of the end, that hideous beginning, but a calm was in his soul, a strange calm.

He felt at rest, at peace. There was a pause. Suddenly the lion snarled, and Karl opened his eyes.

Ah, again that weird, reproaching light! It streamed from the glaring, yellow eyes. Into their depths he gazed and gazed till his mind partly left him. No more he thought of death.

And now the eyes became a piercing blaze of light, which grew and grew till Karl saw before him a broad, shining space.

In the distance flashed a scene. And the soul of the hunter flew toward it.

This was the scene:
Humans filled a vast amphitheater. They shook it shouting. Fearsome was this shouting, even as the howl of a myriad pack of wolves. On the faces was the look of glee—that glee indescribable—that comes when the passion for blood spilling fills the soul.

This passion was upon all—all, from emperor to slave. Man was transformed to a human wolf. The wish to kill or see killed linked, bound all.

The impulse of Cain made all akin. It was a feast day to the gods in Rome, and a mighty, yelling multitude had gathered together to do them homage by seeing a man fight with and kill a man, by seeing a man wait for the signal that might bid him drive his gladius into the heart of a beloved comrade, by seeing a man fight with a beast. Their gods were honored by the flowing and flying of blood. Huge, huge sport to watch it! And yonder Nero sat, swathed in purple. His eyes gleamed as he witnessed the glorious sport.

Prolonged was the shouting, because Tarpus, a favorite gladiator, had just killed, in single combat, with the gladius, his third man. He was now about to fight yonder Numidian lioness. She was striving to burst the bars of her cage, for she had been without food for three days.

A fine fellow was Tarpus, with waving, yellow hair that hung afar down his back. Frank was his face, bold was the glance of his blue eye, and he was great of stature.

And Karl was Tarpus.

"Curse the Roman cowards!" the gladiator muttered as he waited, heedless and resentful of the ovation he was receiving, for the black lioness to be let forth into the arena. "Oh, to think that I obeyed their cruel mandate that bade me slay my comrade, Davoro—Davoro, who risked his life for mine in the campaign! But he smiled in my face, as I bent over him, and said, 'Strike deep, my Tarpus, if thou lovest me!' and I drove the full of my blade through his heart. Oh, I, of all men—I, who loved him, thus to have slain him! Oh, the fight—the fight—it is with me yet! Davoro, who was bound to me by ties of blood, was bound to me by ties of blood, stands before me, his gladius in hand. We cross blades, but our eyes meet not, and lo! before I know aught, he is lying on the sand beneath me, while I stand o'er him with uplifted blade. Then I look up to yonder sea of coward faces, and see thumbs which point downward. Aye, around and around I look, but from all sides the vile gestures come, crowding, overwhelming my soul. They bid me to slay. And then Davoro's voice rings in my ear, as he lies prostrate, bidding me to falter not, but kill him swiftly. Oh! And the face of Tarpus was softened and sad as he looked across the blood red sand of the arena to the place where his comrade lay in death.

Grand was the face of Tarpus—like to the face of a Norse god.

And he thought of his home far, far away—his home from which he was torn, long years ago, from a loved one and little ones, and carried to this great city to be made a slave; to be made to fight out his heart's blood for the amusement of the brutal Romans! Visions of outstretched hands and loving, sorrowful faces came to him from across far, wild seas. The arena, with its blood lust, its pitilessness, was forgotten in a flood of old, tender memories.

Suddenly he looked up at the shouting Romans. Scorn was in his face. They looked upon him but as a human fighting beast, and he wished fiercely that he could kill them all with one thrust from his blade. His heart hardened. He felt that he was indeed alone. His glance sank and fell upon the black lioness. He wiped the blood off the blade of his gladius and waited. No long did he wait, for with a mighty, resounding roar she tore from the cage into the center of the arena. The door had been suddenly flung open.

She paused, turning her head and sniffing the air. Tarpus walked straight toward her. Suddenly she noticed him, and she bounded, roaring, almost to his side. She crouched for a final spring, and Tarpus, sinking on one knee, and with gladius ready, prepared to fight to the death. The vast crowd was hushed, awaiting breathlessly the instant when the brute and the man would meet in the death struggle.

But here occurred a thing inexplicable.

As the eyes of the lioness and the man met both paused suddenly and remained as if transfixed, the man kneeling, the lioness crouching.

What had happened? Why did she not obey the prompting of her instinct to rend him asunder? Did some subtle, sudden power stay her? What spell was working? What was the bond that bound this man and beast? Could it be that they were kindred souls, who were once together, and who recognized each other? Who could tell?

But whatever the spell or bond it had a strange effect upon Tarpus, for he, with a look in his face indescribable, stood upright, and laying his hand upon the lioness walked over with her to the place where Nero sat and insulted and reviled him. Then he became frenzied, and called loudly for the Romans to come and kill him—the lioness roaring the while.

All were amazed and terrified. Surely a weird, nameless happening! Their hearts were cold with fear.

And archers were ordered out. They killed the gladiator and the lioness with their arrows.

A party of French soldiers, who were stationed at a post in the interior of Algeria, came across a man uninjured, but lying senseless in the sand. An immense rifle lay by his side. It was Karl—Bart Kennedy in London Sun.

Philadelphia's Ancient Lockup.

An old English dungeon has been brought to light by the tearing down of a building in the rear of a pickle factory on Spruce street, below Second. The building is thought to have been more than 300 years old. Every brick in it was brought from England, and the building was once the pride of the little colony that lived here. It was originally, it is said, the courthouse of the settlement, and underneath the ground were those dungeons or cells in which prisoners were kept. It is supposed that the cells were used as temporary places of confinement, and not for prisoners serving long terms, much the same as the "lockups" or station houses of today. The bricks are as solid as in the days of old and will be used again in another building. The old house has been burned out several times, but the walls were never damaged much. The whole neighborhood is an interesting one. The building adjoining the one torn down has a fourth floor, which is windowless. Instead of the usual windows it has portholes, slanting downward, from which, "in days of old, when knights were bold," men proudly picked off prowling Indians or enemies of some kind. —Philadelphia Press.

Sterne's Plagiarisms.

The following instance of Sterne's unblushing "conveying" has not, I think, been hitherto recorded. In "Tristram Shandy," volume 1, chapter 12, is the following well known passage:

"When to gratify a private appetite, it is once resolved upon that an innocent and a helpless creature shall be sacrificed, 'tis an easy matter to pick up sticks enough from any thicket where it has strayed to make a fire to offer it up with."

In the introduction to "Baconiana," London, 1679, T. T.—i. e., Dr. Thomas Tenison, in comment on Bacon's words to King James, "I wish that as I am the first, so I may be the last of sacrifices in your times," writes as follows (page 16):

"And when from private Appetite, it is resolv'd that a Creature shall be sacrificed; it is easy to pick up sticks enough, from any Thicket whither it hath strayed, to make a Fire to offer it with."

There could not be a more audacious example of literary theft.—Notes and Queries.

Pronunciation of "Bicycle."

The constantly growing bicycle fad calls attention to the large number of cases of mispronunciation of the word "bicycle." There is a certain class of people, particularly New York's fashionable set, which insists upon giving the "y" a long sound, as in "cycle," forgetting that a prefix or suffix often changes the sound of the vowel "y."

Still others go to the other extreme and give the "y" the sound of "ee," but the best usage makes the "y" short and pronounces the word "bi-sik-l." But even among those who give the "y" the short sound there is a disposition to place the accent on the second syllable instead of on the first, where it belongs. When a word comes into such common use as "bicycle," it is well to learn to pronounce it correctly.—Troy Times.

Holmes as the Autocrat.

Colonel Higginson said recently in an address in Cambridge on Dr. Holmes that, although it was commonly supposed "The Autocrat" was a success from the outset, yet in his opinion its fate was evenly balanced for a month or two. Mr. Underwood, who was then assistant editor of The Atlantic and had a large share in its conduct, thought that the work would be either a great success or a great failure and consulted Colonel Higginson with some anxiety. He feared that Dr. Holmes' outspoken sayings might be looked upon as conceited. But the matter was not long left in doubt.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

says the St. Louis Journal of Agriculture in an editorial about No-To-Bac the famous tobacco habit cure. "We know of many cases cured by No-To-Bac, one, a prominent St. Louis architect, smoked and chewed for twenty years; two boxes cured him so that even the smell of tobacco makes him sick." Obstructions on the Highways

Are sometimes allowed by the authorities to remain too long, but when that important outlet of the refuse and debris of the system—the bowels—become obstructed, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters promptly "raises the blockade." This it does, too, without creating any abdominal disturbance in the way of griping, an unpleasantness always produced by a drastic purgative. No permanent, decisive relief from constipation can be obtained through the agency of a violent cathartic. Mandrake, blue pills, salts and senna and calomel, while they evacuate the intestine, weaken and partly unfit it for future usefulness. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, on the contrary, invigorates the whole abdominal region and promotes a regular secretion and flow of bile. Use this time honored remedy also in malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism, nervousness, in cases of debility, and for kidney trouble. It cures both appetite and sleep.

A cheap excursion to Waukesha and Pewaukee lake via C. & N.W. railway, Thursday, July 11. Full particulars later.

There is one medicine that will cure immediately. We refer to Dr. Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure for all summer complaints. No delay, no disappointment, no failure. C. D. Stevens.

Half Rates To Baltimore, Md.

On account of the International convention Baptist Young People's Union, the Northwestern line will, on July 15 and 16, sell excursion tickets to Baltimore, Md., and return, at a rate of one fare for the round trip, tickets good for return passage until August 8, 1895, inclusive. For tickets and full information apply to agents Chicago & Northwestern R'y.

Travelers find a safe companion in De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure. A change in drinking water and diet often causes severe and dangerous complaints. This medicine always cures them. C. D. Stevens.

A Query.

If a man who waits is the waiter. What then is the man who waits. And waits and waits for the waiter. To wait on him while he waits?—Life.

For over a quarter of a century, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been effecting cures of Bronchitis, Throat and Lung affections. Weak Lungs, Bleeding from Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, all lingering Coughs, Consumption, or Lung Scrophulous and kindred maladies, are cured by it.

REDUCED TO A SKELETON.

Mrs. MIRA MILLS, of Sardinia, Big Stone Co., Minn., writes: "One year ago I was given up by my family physician and friends; all said I must die. My lungs were badly affected, and body reduced to a skeleton. My people commenced to give me your 'Medical Discovery' and I soon began to mend. It was not long before I became well enough to take charge of my household duties again."

I owe my recovery to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
